CHAIRMANS REPORT

We have just witnessed another fantastic season of BOIDC cricket, and this time with the grand final being played after covid-19 prevented the same last season.

Congratulations to Orange City for winning their second consecutive BOIDC premiership. The Warriors finished second in the regular season to St Pat's Old Boys, but were able to defeat the Saints in the match that that mattered most. It took an unbroken 30 run partnership for the ninth wicket between Troy O'Keeffe and Harry McGregor to get City over the line.

No doubt St Pat's Old Boys would no doubt be buoyed by being named limited over champions, amassing the most points from the one day matches, although would be disappointed with the grand final result. They are proving themselves a force to be reckoned with and I'd expect them to be pushing hard next season to go one better.

Rugby Union also made some huge strides forward this year and were certainly the form team for most of the season before weather halted their progress in the penultimate round.

Overall we had an ultra competitive season with the battle for top 4 places going to the very last round. I'm sure Cavaliers will be looking to make amends for what would have been a disappointing result by their standards. This all bodes well for another cracking season next year as teams look to improve on this year's results.

Overall this season we made some significant changes after officially forming a new Association for the running of this competition. This Association is there to serve the needs of both the Bathurst District Cricket Association and the Orange District Cricket Association when it comes to organising a joint competition between teams from those two Associations. We have set the BOIDC Association up such that the Committee will always have equal representation from both Bathurst and Orange, meaning that those two Associations will always maintain control.

The new BOIDC Association will allow us to do things better and whilst there are always some teething issues for new organisations, I think you will all start to see the improvements.

I thank this season's BOIDC Committee for their help and efforts. One positive to come out of covid is how we've quickly adapted to holding online meetings, which has helped to improve our management of this Association. The BOIDC Committee has met this way a number of times during the season, something which we wouldn't have done in pre-covid times.

Looking ahead to next season, we've already had confirmation from O.R.C. that they are keen to return to BOIDC competition next season, so we could be looking at an 11 team competition, which would be the largest BOIDC competition ever. O.R.C. were one of the heavyweights of the competition in its earlier years, winning 3 premierships and runners up 5 times.

It was good to see all BOIDC teams participating in the ODCA's Royal Hotel Cup T20 competition. That will serve to benefit our area by making that arguably the strongest T20 competition in the region.

It has been an honour to serve as your Chairman this season, and I look forward to another very productive and exciting season for BOIDC in 2021-22.

Semi-finals cancelled as rain wreaks havoc with Bathurst pitches

Riley Krause

There will be no dream run from Cavaliers. There will be no automatic grand final spot for Orange City. Instead it is St Pat's and Rugby Union who will benefit after the semi-finals in the Bathurst Orange Inter District Cricket competition were called off on Friday due to rain.

Both matches were due to be played in Bathurst over the course of the weekend, with Cavs to face Rugby at Morse Park and City travelling to the Showground for their St Pat's clash. But 24 hours before the first balls were meant to be bowled, BOIDC president Mark Frecklington confirmed the games were off.

"I haven't seen the grounds first hand, but we got a message from Bathurst with the council saying there is no hope of getting any turf pitch ready this week," he said. "I don't really need to see them, with the rain we've had it's completely understandable.

"Even the Orange grounds had covers on and they've said water has gotten in under covers, holes in covers, so they would be no good either. I think we had about 60mm overnight, so that'll do it."

For Ed Morrish and his City teammates, this means they will play Rugby in a do-or-die final at Wade Park next week, to see who will meet St Pat's in the grand final. "I thought it might be," the captain said when told the games were cancelled. "I'm actually really disappointed that they canned it, considering two games ago the same thing happened and they could've moved the game to Orange."

But for Cavs, this marks the end of the road, as the Orange club was the lowest ranked of the four heading into the weekend. Cavs captain Matt Corben said: "Super proud of my boys to make finals - I don't think we played anywhere near our best cricket at all this year.

"Our best probably being the win against City last week, it wasn't a total performance because were 5-50 batting first but I guess that shows there's still huge room for improvement and if we can beat the top of the table by 100 runs not playing our best cricket good things are on the cards for next year."

Frecklington was disappointed the decision had to be made, but said that's why they play the regular season. "It's always best for the teams to be able to play cricket and decided it that way," he said.

"It's unfortunate for them. I guess the teams that finish higher, finish higher for a reason. Throughout the year they've performed better in the season so that's a bit of a benefit of finishing higher on the table."

Orange City to face St Pat's in grand final after rain-affected win

Riley Krause

Orange City will meet St Pat's in the BOIDC grand final after yet another rain-affected weekend of cricket.

After losing the toss and being sent into bat at Wade Park, Ed Morrish's men had one goal; bat, bat and bat some more. "The biggest thing for us was we wanted to bat for as long as possible to try and make it difficult to chase the runs," the City captain said.

The home side achieved that goal as they finished day 1 of the preliminary final against Rugby Union, seven down and more than 200 runs to the good. This was thanks in large part to young-gun Blake Weymouth who piled on 81 before he was trapped in front off the bowling of Percy Raveneau. This was Weymouth's third 50 in three BOIDC innings against the Bulldogs this season.

"I've been his captain for pretty much his whole first grade career here at Orange City and he is just a pleasure to have," Morrish said when asked about Weymouth. "For such a young kid he is mature beyond his years. I can't speak highly enough of him."

With rain forecast on the Sunday, City came back looking to eke out as many overs as possible with the bat. A handy 30 from No. 9 Brett Causer helped City get to 239 before they were bowled out.

Coming out with the ball, the home side looked menacing behind Morrish and Harry McGregor. The pair combined for three wickets between them to leave Rugby reeling at 3-39. But this brought the Qureshi brothers - Imran (64 not out) and Jameel (27 not out) - to the crease and together they put Rugby back in a position to win the game.

"It's my job to take the new ball and take early wickets and build pressure and I'm happy to do that today," Morrish said on his opening spell. "I thought early on we bowled really well. We came back after lunch and we were a bit flat but the conditions, mixed with some good batting between Imran and Jameel set up for a good finish."

That finish did not eventuate though, as the rain forced both teams off the field with Rugby sitting at 3-118 and plenty of overs still in the shed. The rain did not subside and a few hours later the umpires were forced to abandon the game.

As City finished higher on the regular season ladder, this meant they won through to next week's grand final.

Orange City takes out 2020-21 grand final over St Pat's Old Boys

A grand final with a grand conclusion.

Orange City claimed a thrilling two-wicket triumph over St Pat's Old Boys in the Bathurst Orange Inter District Cricket association decider at the Sportsground last weekend, thanks to an inspirational, backs-to-the-wall ninth-wicket partnership.

The visitors edged past the Saints' 193 in the dying stages of Sunday's second day, guided by a gritty, unbeaten 28 from player-of-the-game and wicketkeeper-bat Troy O'Keeffe, who survived 119 balls to get his side home.

He and young, gun quick Harry McGregor added a match-winning 30 for the ninth wicket after Orange City lost 4-8 the middle order, with McGregor dialling in defensively to support his gloveman with an unbeaten 1 from 48 balls.

It's the fourth successive top grade premiership for Orange City when including their 2017-18 and 2018-19 titles in the Orange District Cricket Association.

"That was a gutsy win. Games like that are not so much about how good you are but how much heart you've got, and my boys showed a lot of that, but so too did Pat's," City captain Ed Morrish said.

Morrish's wicket sparked the quick collapse in City's middle order and he was left watching on nervously as his lower order managed to produce something special.

"If you watched me over there when that was happening you would have seen that I needed a new pair of shoes because I was doing a lot of pacing," he laughed.

"People doubted us because last year we were given the title due to COVID, so we wanted to go out and prove that we were that team."

Making the victory all the sweeter for Morrish was the fact his Warriors claimed the win with what most would consider an understrength side, with Dave Boundy (broken arm), Lachlan Coyte (unavailable), Jaymes Thomas (unavailable) and Ben Findlay (torn achilles) all ruled out.

Incredibly, all but Boundy had taken the gloves throughout 2020-21, with O'Keeffe at least the fourth gloveman to have played in the Warriors' top grade.

"But that was incredible. We've had a lot of ins and outs with this team due to injuries or unavailability's so for the blokes to come in and do the job is the most pleasing thing as a captain," Morrish beamed.

For Saints captain Adam Ryan it was at least a game worthy of the 'grand final' billing. "It was a ripper game. They're the grand finals you dream about being a part of. You dream about being on the other side of it but I'm so proud of the efforts from everyone - today and throughout the season," he said.

"They've all been faultless in their commitment to the club and the cause this year."

Saints were in serious danger in their innings on Saturday before Cooper Brien (29), Hamish Siegert (46) and Josh Wilcox (45) added more than 100 runs over the space of two partnerships. Derryn Clayton (24) also added valuable late runs for the Saints.

McGregor led the way with the ball for City with his 3-42.

In response, Ben Schofield (31) and top scorer Blake Weymouth (48) pushed the visitors past the 100 mark at the loss of just two wickets. Shaun Grenfell (27) continued to inject some spark into the City chase before he formed part of Orange's four-wicket collapse.

O'Keeffe and McGregor each survived a scare when they were nearly caught, and their nervous chase was prolonged further by a drinks break with 10 runs to get. But there was no need to fear as the pair etched their names into the City history books with a partnership to remember.

Three Pat's bowlers finished with two wickets, with the best of them being Angus Parsons (2-21).

Russ Gardner named player of the 2020-21 season

ANYONE who had been around the Bathurst Orange Inter District Cricket competition during its previous iteration knew what Russ Gardner would be capable of in his return this season. But no-one was ready for his onslaught with the bat - one that would see the City Colts player named the BOIDC player of the season for 2020-21.

Gardner finished his campaign with 665 runs, putting him well clear of nearest challenger Dave Neil (494) on the regular season leaderboard. He had an average of 73.89 from 12 innings (second highest in the competition) and a highest score of 156 not out in the round five meeting with Centrals - the highest individual score of any batsman this season.

Gardner was pleased to hold the individual trophy aloft on grand final day but he said he'd trade it to be out in the middle of the field on the last match of the season. "It's a bit of a mixed feeling. It's great to be able to come back and be proud of what you can achieve individually - and I'm proud the team's effort too - but we were just a little bit shy of the finals," he said. "But this was certainly not something I expected when coming back to play this year."

The most impressive aspect of Gardner's campaign was his consistency. When Gardner hit 80 in the round four clash with Centennials Bulls little did he know that it would begin a stunning seven-inning streak of half centuries. His average over that stretch was 121.6. The run only came to an end when he was stopped just short of making it eight in a row when he was out for 48 against Orange City.

Gardner didn't come into the season with any major expectations, only hoping to do what he could to help Colts make progress this season. "I really didn't know how I would go when I started playing so I was pleasantly surprised," he said. "I just needed to work a little bit harder and ensure that I could be out there to do the job for the team. I want to be out there enjoying the game and that's what came through during the year.

Gardner said he's keen to return in 2021-22 with City Colts. "I'll hopefully be back for more," he said. "We'll see how the body and mind goes but I love the sport and I love Bathurst cricket so it would be great to keep playing if I can."

Bathurst City's Clint Moxon finished as the season's highest wicket taker with 30 wickets, beating St Pat's Old Boys' Mitch Taylor (28), Rugby Union's Hugh McIntyre (26) and Centrals' Ed Dodds (26).

TEAM OF THE YEAR

Blake Weymouth (Orange City) - Another big season for the little left-hander. With 567 runs @ 43.62, one century and a handful of half centuries, Weymouth was the leading opener in the competition and was a major contributor to Orange City's premiership win with a couple of big innings in the finals.

Joey Coughlan (Bathurst City) - Named in this side for a second successive season, Coughlan headed his side's batting with his 440 runs @ 33.85. Whilst falling agonisingly short of that glorious ton, the right-hander managed 3 half centuries, as well as 16 wickets to be a very useful bowling option as well.

David Neil (CYMS) - Whilst it was a hard year for the young CYMS team, Neil should be satisfied that he did all that he could. The former Western Zone representative scored the second most number of runs across the preliminary rounds, with 494 @ 38 and a century to his name.

Russell Gardner (City Colts) - His record speaks for itself; topping the run tally with 665 runs @ 73.89 with a highest score of 156 not out. Gardner was consistent across the season, also making 7 half centuries and was the rock that City Colts built their season assault on. The period where he scored 50 or more in 8 consecutive Innings is a clear indicator why Gardner was a more than deserving recipient of the BOIDC's Player of the Year.

Connor Slattery (St Pat's Old Boys) - Another strong season for the batting all-rounder and one of only three players in this lineup to have also made last season's team season. Slattery's batting average of 66.29 (77 during the regular season) shows his reliability. His average of 77 would see him finish atop the BOIDC's list of averages. His 464 runs included two centuries; the only batsman to pass that mark twice. He also claimed 14 wickets to be a more than handy back up spinner in this line-up.

Matt Corben (Cavaliers) - The Cavaliers skipper didn't have a blistering season like 2019-20, but it was still a pretty good one. Corben's 404 runs for the season included a century and a couple of half centuries and came at a nice average of a tick under 45.

Blake Aubin (wk, Centennials) - This man certainly had a lot to play for this season. Often being the difference between his side posting a competitive score and not, Aubin proved he could bat well under pressure. Aubin scored 426 runs @ 42.60 including one century.

Ed Morrish (captain, Orange City) - 4 First Grade Premierships in a row isn't bad to have on your CV, with 3 of those as captain. Morrish had another good season with the ball, taking 26 wickets @ 14.77. His exploits with the ball inspired his team throughout the season with a best of 8/56 against Rugby Union. Being the man to hold the BOIDC Premiership Cup aloft in 2020-21 gives Morrish the green light to have the "C" next to his name in this team for the second consecutive season.

Clint Moxon (Bathurst City) - The man his side looked to when they needed a wicket. His 30 wickets @ 17.10 ensured his place in this line-up as he also led the wicket tally for the competition. His ability to bowl long spells was also important for his team, as shown when he bowled 25 straight against City Colts to get his side over the line.

Mitch Taylor (St Pat's Old Boys) - A big season for the lethal left-armer, being 1 of just 4 bowlers to claim 5 wickets in an innings twice. His 29 wickets @ 16.62 with that explosive pace made him an obvious choice for the team.

Ed Dodds (Centrals) - 26 wickets @ 18.92 made him the leading wicket taker of the slow bowling brigade this season. Dodds was the shining beacon in his side's bowling attack, making regular breakthroughs for his side to keep them in the hunt across most of the season.

Hugh McIntyre (Rugby Union) - A bowler that possibly no-one was talking about at the start of the season, but his numbers speak for themselves: 26 wickets @ 17.08. McIntyre also bagged a couple of 5 wicket hauls to lead the way for his team this season.
